Leader's Line ...

Transitions: The Only Constant is Change

RICK HILLES, PRESIDENT

Well, the Annual General Meeting will be happening or history around the time you get this newsletter. The meeting signals the end of the club's business year and the beginning of the next. If you hear quacking in the background, it's the sound of a lame duck president.

I hope you plan to attend the Installation and Awards Dinner and you have sent in your reservation. The program provides lots of fun as we reflect on the past year and welcome the new Board of Directors to help with the next. I'm looking forward to having the dinner in our clubhouse and to continuing the program begun by Al and Judy Ross last year when we dined at the Lawn Bowling Clubhouse.

Over the past month, the club has participated in the Pasadena Show and the Fred Hall Show thanks to the efforts of Paul Burgner who has overseen the club's participation to assure the fishing community knows of the programs we offer, especially the Casting and Fly Tying Clinics. Fly tying has shifted gears into the advanced level and wraps up April 7, just one week before Casting Instruction begins under the leadership of Gary Charles. We also wrap up one of my favorite programs, the ON THE RIVER CLINIC with a trip to the Lower Owens. I wish I could go but I plan to be out of town wandering around the flats of the Bay of Chetumal looking for bonefish, permit and tarpon.

Another of my favorites is the club trip to the Green River. The setting provides a visual treat. You get to see the Flaming Gorge and you can see the fish up to a depth of four or five feet, in some places even deeper. I like the low budget version of this trip: if you have the time, drive up with friends, camp, make your own meals, walk and wade on your own, hang out with other club members in the campground; that's where they all get together anyhow.

At the Annual General Meeting the Board does a little recap of the year's events. You will hear from First VP Mick Woodbury that we sponsored informative, entertaining general meetings on a limited budget, from Treasurer Rich Garret that the club is financially sound despite the challenges we have faced over the past year, from Second VP Bettye Swart that the club sponsored trips to both local and distant fun locations, from Membership Secretary Mark Flo that our membership remains at past levels. From my point of view some of the most important things that happened were: we rebuilt the club house, renewed our lease and we ran our programs smoothly. None of these things would have happened without the talent, dedication, hard work and support of so many of our members who generously gave of their time and resources to make our club the remarkable place it is.

It's been my privilege to have been involved in these events and to help out where I could. I'm looking forward to focusing on things fishing: trips, casting, fly tying, etc., instead of things operational.

See you around the pond.

Awards & Installation Dinner

RICK HILLES, PRESIDENT

Each year the Long Beach Casting Club commemorates the highlights of the previous 12 months at the AWARDS AND INSTALLATION DINNER. We will hand out awards for service and casting, thank the current Board of Directors for their efforts and welcome and install the new Board of Directors that will provide leadership for the coming year. Oh, and there's that other award...the JA AWARD. Who's the poor soul going to be this year?

This year's event will held on Saturday, April 18, 2009 at the Long Beach Casting Club and will start at 5:00 PM. The entree will be Lasagna, garlic bread and beverages provided by the club. The remainder of our meal will be Pot Luck: for appetizers (if the initial of your last name is A to H); salads (I to P) and dessert (Q to Z). The cost will be $5.00 per person. A great price for an evening with friends.

Please complete your reservation form below and send it along with your payment or, simply give it to Rick Hilles down at the club. Join us!

Pond and Clubhouse Cleaning

MARK LIPE, CAPTAIN

On March 1st, a dedicated crew of Bill Boehlert, Marv Dworzak, Rick Hilles, Yash Iseda, Jay Jones, Richard Kraft, Gerry Marotta, Dennis Martinez, Bob Middo, Rod Pabst, Dan Rivett, Andy Stillittano, Jack Turner and Mark Tsunawaki joined me as we cleaned the clubhouse and casting pond in a record time of 60 minutes.

I am always grateful for the individuals who give up part of their Sunday and join me in the cleaning process. Some like to work the water hose, some prefer to push the squeegees, and others end up raking debris and a few golf balls. With the pond cleaning crew plentiful and doing a wonderful job, a few of us worked in and around the clubhouse, cleaning the floors, planting flowers, and even our president—Rick Hilles was found scrubbing the restrooms.

Our next cleaning is Sunday, April 12 at 7:30 AM. Coffee and donuts will be served. For those of you who utilize the casting pond on Saturdays, I will be draining the pond late afternoon on April 11. Come join us, it is a wonderful opportunity to socialize and give back to the Long Beach Casting Club.

Captain's "Score Perfect" Report

MARK LIPE, CAPTAIN

The 2008-09 Long Beach Casting Club's tournament casting season is over with 40 casters participating. John Van Derhoof led the way with two perfect 100's in Dry Fly and Joe Libeu had the 2nd best score of a 99 in Trout Fly. Rick Hilles and John Van Derhoof were top dogs in the Bass Bug event with scores of 95. Larry Allen, Carole Katz, John Napoli, Matt Rickerd, and Mark Tsunawaki shared best scores in Wet Fly with 97's.

Mark Lipe and Mark Tsunawaki shared best honors in 5/8 oz. Plug with 97's. Mark Lipe was the leader in the 3/8 oz. Plug event with a 95 and Mark Tsunawaki had bragging rights in the 1/4 oz. Plug with a high score of 94. Mark Tsunawaki was also top gun in the 5 wt. Combination event with a total score of 5140 points.

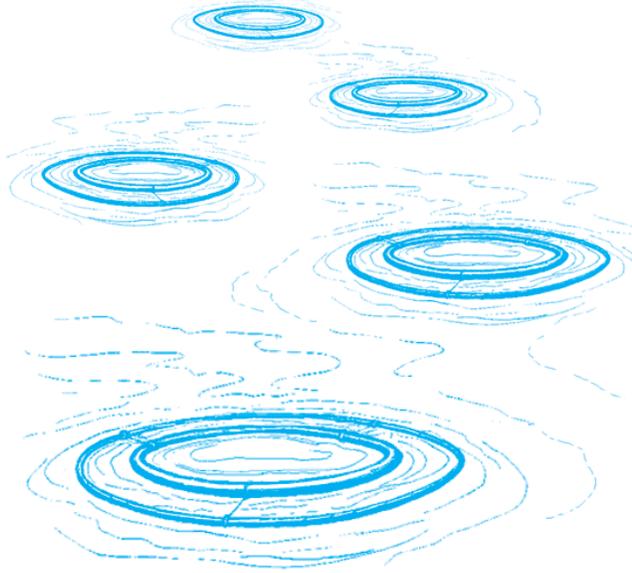

The distance game leaders were Bill Heard in Trout Fly Distance with a cast of 99'; Bob Middo in the Angler's Fly Distance with 151' and Ian Walker cast the 1/4 oz. Distance Plug 185'. Listed below are the 1st, 2nd, and 3rd place finishers for each casting event. Although these are the top scores for the season, Club awards could be different, as they are based upon the sum of the caster's best three scores. Club awards will be given out at the upcoming Awards and Installation Dinner on April 18.

The Directors' Handicap started off with delicious breakfast burritos being served by chef extraordinaire—Mark Flo. The casting tournament was for a $100 cash prize with two teams battling each other in both Fly (Trout and Bass Bug) and Plug (1/4 oz. and 3/8 oz.) accuracy events. Each team member had to compete in at least 3 events. The winner was determined by the best 7 fly games and best 4 plug games. A set number of free "score perfect" targets were given to each caster depending upon their classification. The Red Team which consisted of Jay Jones, Rick Hilles, Mark Lipe and Mark Tsunawaki beat the Blue Team by 12 points. If the tournament ended up in a tie, the Blue Team would of won as Bill Heard had the longest Trout Fly Distance of 95'. The Blue Team was comprised of Mark Flo, Frank Kropacek, Bill Heard, Bob Middo, and John Van Derhoof.

I personally want to thank EVERYONE who participated in this years casting games and to all of those who assisted with judging, score keeping, repairing targets, pond and clubhouse cleanings, breakfast chefs, and also to the dedicated crew of volunteers who worked the southwestern casting tournament. Because of you and your contributions, being this year's Captain was a fun and rewarding experience. I hope you will consider being a Captain for the club in the future. "Once a Captain, Always a Captain".

It Has Been Fun!

BETTYE SWART, 2ND VICE PRESIDENT

As I clean out my club trip files for the changing of the guard to Bill Boehlert, I am reminded, how much I learned, the great Streamkeepers and Oceankeepers who volunteered to lead the twelve club trips this past year and the members of our club, who make the trips so much fun.

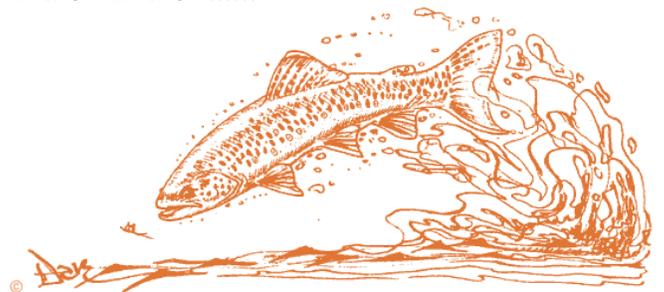

Please offer to create a trip for the club this coming season. We are a very appreciative group. Here are my club super stars who led us on such great adventures. The club owes you a lot: Maria Rivas, Carol Murphy, Jeff Sadler, Bob Middo, Mick Woodbury, Ariel Levin, Mark Allen, Yash Iseda, Dan Rivett, Mark Flo and Matt Rickerd.

This is kind of like the last cast of the day, you don't want to end but you know its time. Best fishes, Bettye

You're invited

$870

Basic Package Cost: Food, Lodging and Share of the car rental for a week.

LOWER PRICES!!!

Week One: August 7-14th

Week Two: August 14-21st

Jerry has lowered the cost of the trip, which should be great fun for all of us. The cost is for a week of food and lodging at the Bunkhouse will be $110 per day, or $770 for a week. Since the trip is "self guided", the cost of the week will depend on what you decide to do.

The cost of the cars is $500 to $600 per week for each car, and that averages out to about $100 per person per week to have access to the two cars we rent. The rental cars will transport fly fishers to the streams and also be used on days when access to the straits is blown out. If we add the car cost of $100 to the $770, each persons cost for the week for food, lodging and the car is $870.

Jerry will collect for the trip at the end of the week, so all you need to pay until then is the $200 deposit. Jerry does not accept Credit Cards, so bring your checkbook.

What will hold your spot is a deposit of $200, made out to Coffman Cove Bunkhouse, and mailed to MikeAllen, and it has to be first come, first served.

Fly of the Month: WD-40

JOHN VAN DERHOOF, EDITOR

I know winter is almost over and it is time to start focusing on mayflies and caddis but you may be making a serious mistake. If you fish anywhere this spring or early summer it is likely to have abundant, hatching populations of Midges and Baetis and the WD-40 is one pattern that needs to be with you. Can you say the Owens (Upper and Lower), the Green, the San Juan, the Colorado and several dozen more I failed to mention? Of course you can...

Spring is a day to day occurrence in the High Country. Winter continues to hang on with cold blustery conditions and the WD-40 is still a must have for these colder hatch conditions. The fly, invented by Mark Engler (also referenced as John) for use on the Frying Pan River in Colorado where large Midges and lots of Baetis mayflies are a preferred food source for the river's trout population. However the WD-40 is quite versatile in imitating other species of insects depending on the color, size and style that you tie. It is a good idea to carry the fly in several different colors to match local conditions including tan, black, pink, red and gray beyond the olive shown here. Vary the sizes to include a range of #16 down to #20.

This pattern has been around since the '80s and because of its popularity it has proffered more variations than you could shake a stick at. What is being presented to you is the original pattern as best as I can determine and it still, according to many, is one the best. You can add a bit of flash to the body or the wing case through the use of Krystal Flash or similar materials or add some weight and impart a jiggling action by adding a bead head. Still other variations include adding a wing—in particular a short, upright emerging wing.

Fishing it dead drift with an indicator or a dropper dry fly is my favorite method of using the WD-40. Be sure to complete your drift and allow the imitation to rise through the water column like an emerging insect or you will be missing about 40% of your strikes. Continue to retrieve the fly slowly for a short distance before your next presentation and drift. Fishing the WD-40 in this fashion is a great way to spend the day.

Materials for tying the WD-40:

- Hook: Midge emerger style such as a Tiemco #2487 in sizes #16–20
- Thread: Olive 6/0 or 8/0
- Tail: Wood duck flank fibers (hence the 'WD')
- Body: Thread
- Thorax: Muskrat dubbing including the guard hairs
- Wing case: Wood duck flank fibers
- Head: Same as body or black

Tying instructions for the WD-40

1. The WD-40 is simple to tie and very effective fly to use. Place your hook in the vise in the standard fashion. Attach your tying thread just behind the headspace and evenly wind down the shank to a point where the thread is directly over the point of the barb. Remove a clump of about 4 to 8 fibers, depending on the size of the fly, from a wood duck flank feather. Tie them in so that they extend beyond the bend and are about the length of the shank. Do not trim the butt ends as they will be used for the wing case.
2. Smoothly wind the body using your tying thread. I like to spin the thread counter-clockwise every 8 to 10 wraps to keep it flat and untwisted. The body should be a thin, smooth, slightly cigar shaped and extend about one-half to two-thirds the length of the shank.
3. Before you proceed to the dubbing fold back the butts of the tail and add any additional wood duck fibers you need in order to create the size of the wing case that you want. Your thread should now be at the beginning of the thorax.
4. Thickly apply muskrat dubbing, including the guard hairs, to your thread to form the thorax. For an even shaggier appearance you can use a dubbing loop. Wind the dubbing forward to the headspace evenly, avoiding overlap that could weaken the fly, and tie off at the headspace.
5. Pull the wood duck fibers forward over the top of the thorax giving them a slight twist to help keep them together. Tie the fibers down securely with a few thread wraps. Form a small, neat head and whip finish. Using your bodkin, pick out the underside of the thorax creating a hair and dubbing hackle and your WD-40 is complete.
